CV SUMMARY

Researcher in Roman archaeology, PhD in Humanities from Universidad Carlos III de Madrid since 2023. My work was awarded the Summa Cum Laude distinction and received the Outstanding Thesis Award (Premio Extraordinario de Doctorado) by Universidad Carlos III de Madrid.

I hold a Licentiate degree in History from Universidad Complutense de Madrid, with a specialisation in Prehistory, and a Master's in Geographic Information Technologies from the same university, specialising in its application in Archaeology.

Recipient of the prestigious 2023 Juan de la Cierva postdoctoral fellowship, awarded through a national competition in Spain.

I have completed three international research stays: in Italy (Spanish School of History and Archaeology in Rome "EEHAR – CSIC"); in the United Kingdom (Durham University) and Denmark (Aarhus University). I have also been involved in several national and international research projects.

My doctoral research has sought to characterise the household economies of the peasant settlements in Roman Carpetania. For this, I have specialised in the use of new methods such as network science (Social and Spatial Network Analysis) and Geographic Information Systems, which have proven to be versatile and very useful tools for archaeological research. With them, I have been able to reveal spatial relationships among household economies and have sought to understand the functioning of the economies of rural areas in the Roman world.

My research endeavours have led to different high-ranked publications. Notably, I have authored and co-authored papers in national and international journals, like the Journal of Computer Applications in Archaeology and, the Journal of Archaeological Science: Reports, among others. I have also actively participated in numerous international conferences and workshops, presenting my findings and methods to the global academic community.

I have accumulated over 200 hours of teaching experience in subjects related to Classical and Roman culture. I actively participated in the council of the Humanities department, and I am participating in several associations like European Association of Archaeologists, CAA, and Instituto de Cultura y Tecnología at UC3M.

ACADEMIC POSITIONS

2024 – Research fellowship (Postdoc, Assegno di Ricerca).
present Università degli Studi Roma Tre (Italy).

Research fellowship within the Horizon-funded research project "ARGUS - Non-destructive, Scalable, Smart Monitoring of Remote Cultural Treasures" aimed at developing innovative strategies for the monitoring of remote and at-risk rural cultural heritage. The initiative seeks to establish effective strategies for safeguarding remote, marginal, and peripheral built heritage from anthropogenic, environmental risks, and the impacts of climate change. Responsibilities include analysing GIS data from aerial photographs, geo-topographical databases, and satellite images, and contributing to the monitoring and strategy implementation efforts of the ARGUS project, targeting pilot cases in Italy, Greece, and Spain.

Scientific Coordinator: Dr Emeri Farinetti

Employer: Dipartimento di Studi Umanistici, Università degli Studi Roma Tre

- Jan - Jun 2024 Associate lecturer.
Universidad Carlos III de Madrid (Spain)
 Part-time associate lecturer (20%) for teaching and evaluation of Classical Culture courses.
 Employer: Universidad Carlos III de Madrid. Humanities department: History, Geography and Art.
- 2023 (oct) Research fellowship (Postdoc, Assegno di Ricerca) awarded but not undertaken due to incompatibilities with other professional commitments.
Università degli Studi di Genova (Italy).
 Research fellowship within the ERC-StG 2019 – ANTIGONE project, Storia ambientale e uso condiviso delle risorse agro-silvo-pastorali: ricerche di archeologia del paesaggio nella montagna europea (XVIII-XXI sec.), focusing on settlement dynamics and resource management in European mountains from the 18th to the 21st century. Subsequent incompatibility due to prior commitments prevented the formal acceptance of the position.
 Scientific Coordinator: Dr Anna Maria Stagno.
 Employer: Dipartimento di Antichità, Filosofia e Storia (DAFIST), Università degli Studi di Genova
- 2018 - 2022 Doctoral research fellow and teaching assistant.
Universidad Carlos III de Madrid (Spain).
 Doctoral fellowship funded by the project Economías domésticas en el norte de la Carpetania romana (100 a.C. – 400 d.C.): Condiciones de vida, redes y desigualdad (Domestic Economies in the North of Roman Carpetania (100 BC – AD 400): Living conditions, networks and inequality).
 Scientific Coordinator: Dr Jesús Bermejo Tirado.
 Employer: Universidad Carlos III de Madrid. Instituto de Cultura y Tecnología.
- 2016 - 2018 Archaeological guide. Numantia archaeological site
 Contract for the scientific dissemination of the Numantia archaeological site (Soria, Spain).
 Employer: ACC Tierraquemada.

EDUCATION

- 2023 PhD in Humanities. Universidad Carlos III de Madrid (Spain). Departamento de Humanidades: Historia, Geografía y Arte. Instituto de Cultura y Tecnología Antonio Rodríguez de las Heras.
 Thesis title: Paisajes, territorios y economías domésticas en el norte de la Carpetania romana. Una aproximación desde la ciencia de redes (Landscapes, Territories, and Domestic Economies in the North of Roman Carpetania. A Network Science Approach.).
